SECTION 1

Introduction

Introduction

In 2011, the Archie Anderson Park Master Plan was a planning effort to introduce new amenities into the park system. The main focus of the 2011 planning process was enhancing the park to accommodate a large baseball facility, although decline in youth baseball participation was already underway in Longview. The 2011 Master Plan proposed the installation of additional baseball features; the provision of a water feature, community garden, and orchard area; and the construction of a community center.

The purpose of this study is to update the existing Master Plan for Archie Anderson Park, originally adopted in 2011, to reflect current standards and community needs. SCJ Alliance was hired as a consultant to evaluate the current needs of the City of Longview, stakeholders, and the community.

Assessment of the community's needs took place through a series of engagement efforts to determine the issues and deficiencies in the park's existing amenities, as well as the potential opportunities for improvement. The information gathered through the outreach effort was then put toward the creation of an updated Archie Anderson Park Master Plan that reflects the community's existing needs and wishes.

Project Vision and Goals

The vision and goals that were established as part of the 2011 Master Plan were used as a baseline for this update. The purpose of this update is not to transform Archie Anderson Park into a totally new environment. Rather, the aim of the current effort is to evaluate the existing facilities, make suggestions for reuse, and propose new elements that will contribute to the park's learning opportunities, everyday functions, and overall success. Thus, based on numerous discussions with the Parks and Recreation Department, the community partners, and the stakeholders, the following goals are applicable:

- » Promote local park identity
- » Connect the park to adjacent neighborhoods
- » Balance the park's active and passive uses
- » Provide a variety of experiences for a range of different age groups
- » Provide accommodations for large groups and events
- » Design the park to function all year round
- » Provide multi-use building for indoor activities
- » Improve pedestrian flows through the park
- » Provide a variety of educational opportunities
- » Encourage outdoor learning
- » Provide more parking

Existing Conditions

Archie Anderson Park is a 6.38 acre community park located on Alabama Street between 21st and 22nd Avenues. Over the years, Archie Anderson Park has transformed and been redeveloped consistent with the community's activity and recreational needs.

- » Since 1990, the park has been used as an active recreation park with utilizing the need for baseball fields.
- » From 1990 to 2000, an additional baseball field and a playground area were added to the park amenities to further promote active recreation.
- » From 2000 to 2005, the basketball courts were constructed, and improvements were made to the baseball facilities, including equipment storage, fencing, and concession areas.
- » From 2005 to 2013, Archie Anderson Park was at full build out with the addition of bleachers, batting cages, lights for the basketball court, and a connection to the newly constructed Highlands Neighborhood Trail.
- » From 2013 to present, the park has transformed consistent with the decline in use of the baseball facilities – removing 3 of the 4 baseball fields, dugouts, baseball fencing, bleachers, and batting cages.

Existing Master Plan

The 2011 Master Plan was developed through a rich involvement process to ensure it would reflect the local community's needs and values. This planning process, conducted from May–November 2010, included two workshops, draft and final designs, and delivery of the final Master Plan. The adopted Master Plan is illustrated in Figure 2.

In 2013, a planning effort for the Highlands Community Center was undertaken to further develop conceptual plans for the multi-use community building identified in the 2011 Master Plan. This planning effort also included an extensive public participation element, including stakeholder engagement and a community visioning workshop. The effort resulted in a detailed schematic design and site plan for the Highlands Community Center, which was adopted into the 2011 Archie Anderson Park Master Plan by amendment.

City of Longview Staff Meeting

On April 19, 2018, SCJ Alliance met with the City of Longview Parks and Recreation staff to discuss the existing conditions, existing usage, and projected future of Archie Anderson Park. From this meeting it was understood that youth baseball in the City of Longview is in decline, and therefore usage of the park for baseball games and tournaments is also in decline.

Consequently, the focus was on the future needs for Archie Anderson Park and the amenities that would best serve the Highlands Community. Amenities such as a covered pavilion, additional parking, and internal pedestrian walkways were discussed. The conversation further turned to park usership, maintenance, and security of the users and community.

A conceptual plan was drafted to address these items and is presented in Figure 6 (Concept 1).

Stakeholder Interviews

On May 24, 2018, stakeholder interviews were held with community businesses, community leaders, City of Longview staff, and community advocates to identify issues, opportunities, and concerns regarding the existing park and a possible future update to the Master Plan. Discussion topics included:

- » Amenities needed
- » Amenities not needed
- » Public safety concerns/issues
- » Operation and maintenance issues
- » Aesthetic and environmental issues
- » Park facilities and phasing

A categorized summary of the issues, opportunities, and concerns brought up during the stakeholder interviews is shown in Figure 4.

Another conceptual plan alternative was drafted to address the items brought up in this discussion; it is presented in Figure 7 (Concept 2).

» The chart above represents the issues, opportunities, and concerns identified by stakeholders, broadly split into six categories for the purposes of plan development. A complete list of stakeholder responses, compiled by category, can be found at right.

Community Open House

On June 25, 2018, a community open house was held at the Highlands Neighborhood Association building. This open house was an opportunity for the community to contribute ideas and suggestions for the update to the Archie Anderson Master Plan. The participants were shown conceptual site plans and asked to comment on their likes and dislikes about each concept. They were also presented with potential park amenities and asked to select those they thought would be most appropriate to the park, and to provide input on any additional needs the community might have.

Participants' written responses and additional input can be found in Section 4, Supporting Information. A categorized summary of these responses is shown in Figure 5.

An additional conceptual plan alternative was drafted to address the issues and concerns discussed at the open house; it is presented in Figure 8 (Concept 3).

Master Plan Update Alternatives

As mentioned above, community concerns and suggested amenities were addressed and channeled into three concepts that have been vetted through the planning process.

An initial plan concept, Concept 1, was developed based on early input from City of Longview Parks and Recreation staff (Figure 6).

After meeting with Parks and Recreation staff, stakeholders were consulted. Their input was used to expand on the initial concept, leading to the creation of Concept 2 (Figure 7).

Finally, after input from both the City of Longview Parks and Recreation staff and community stakeholders, Concepts 1 and 2 were presented at a community open house. Comments reflective of that meeting are outlined in Concept 3 (Figure 8).

Recommended Master Plan Update

---

Through this planning and community involvement process, a number of concepts have been created and commented upon by staff, stakeholders, and community members. In total, there are four concepts to consider:

- » Original Master Plan from 2011
- » Concept 1 – City Parks Staff Input
- » Concept 2 – City Parks Staff and Stakeholder Input
- » Concept 3 – City Parks Staff, Stakeholder, and Community Input

From these options, Concept 3 has emerged as the preferred option. This concept addresses all the concerns, issues, and opportunities that were identified during the planning process.

The Highlands Community Center Plan that was adopted into the original Archie Anderson Park Master Plan is still very relevant to the park's future development, and should be considered as planning for the park moves forward.

Update Implementation

Opinion of Construction Cost

As illustrated by the differences between this Master Plan update and the Plan adopted in 2011, many factors can change the priorities of a Master Plan over time. The recreational needs of the community can shift, and funding availability can drive the order in which projects are able to be completed. As funding sources are identified, the project scope will be refined, the budget will be adjusted, and the order of development events will shift. Opportunities for phasing park development may arise as various funding sources become available.

An opinion of construction cost for labor and materials is presented on the following page to guide decision making and assist in allocation of funds in the project's subsequent design phases. This estimate does not include construction of the Highlands Community Center building, which will be undertaken as a separate project. Also not included are any upgrades to the existing playground equipment, which is planned for replacement in the coming months as part of a separate effort.

The opinion of construction cost presented here is calculated in 2018 dollars for the total project including labor and materials.

Action Items

As part of the planning process, recommended action items and opportunities were identified to promote implementation of the updated Archie Anderson Park Master Plan. These action items are intended to help move the project from concept to reality in subsequent design phases.

- » Coordinate with the Longview Police Department to house a police substation at the park.
- » Invest in the community by supporting the community groups who use and occupy Archie Anderson Park.
- » Invest in the community and support the school system by constructing a gazebo along Alabama Street to be used as a bus shelter and a BBQ/picnic area.
- » Phasing of the construction may allow for temporary uses such as an off-leash dog park to be implemented until such phase would eliminate the temporary use.
- » Consider bleachers, either temporary or permanent, for the basketball tournaments throughout the year.
- » Determine if the internal pedestrian walkways will be gravel, asphalt, or concrete.
