3. Constituent Comments

Sandy Meyers, Longview City Resident, attended the meeting to discuss a tree issue at her residence that she believes are caused by City owned street trees. Ms. Meyers presented pictures as well as a detailed description of alleged issues including upheaved sidewalks and roots within her yard she believes have become tripping hazards. She is concerned about the sidewalks and the potential threat to her homes foundation and asked the board to recommend the tree be removed. Ms. Meyers is interested in new subdivision tree planting rules as well and how trees are selected. Mr. Nedved indicated that street tree roots are problematic within this residential area in part as a result of the turf being removed and replaced with lava rocks allowing for the roots to remain on the surface growing outward to take in water instead of developing a deeper root system to draw in water from the soil. Sandy mentioned that her tree is surrounded by turf and not lava rock. Curt Nedved, Park Manager, reported on the root pruning that has previously occurred at this residence and agreed that the species is most-likely inappropriate for the size of the planting strip. Nick Seaver, Board Member, asked what is the first step towards helping a homeowner out with a tree and sidewalk issue? Curt said that the first step is root pruning which can be helpful; however the trees each need to be evaluated to determine if removal vs. pruning is most effective. Curt said that the last step after everything else is exhausted is tree removal. Mr. Seaver asked if the sidewalk was the homeowner's responsibility. The answer is as follows: If the sidewalk is misaligned due to the city tree the responsibility falls on the city. If the city determines the homeowner is at fault directly it is the responsibility of the homeowner and they are presented with different options for repair and/or replacement at their own expense. Currently the City Street Department is responsible for sidewalk repair at this time with a current backlog of approximately 2 years on repair. Diane Quast, Board Member, asked about liability issues related to street trees causing sidewalk repair. Sandy Meyers, who is also a city employee in the Engineering Department, let the board know that there are many claims against the city regarding the sidewalks yearly.

The board asked about factors that determine the type of species for planting around the city. Curt noted that height, canopy/crown size, and rate of growth are factors when choosing. Diane Quast, asked if there was a written city policy and Curt stated that it is currently vaguely stated as plant the "right tree for the right spot". Curt let the board know that he assumes within the next 10 years that the trees will be removed from Ms. Meyers neighborhood and planted with some type of dwarf tree variety. Diane asked if there were other areas around town where this has occurred. Curt noted that in the current downtown street scape, he was asked to provide types of trees that would thrive in the new design the contractor had put together. Curt suggested to the contractor a type of tree to go along side walk areas that would allow for optimal health and growth. The contractor asked for a larger leafier tree at the corners of the streets. Curt let the contractor know that a larger species could be planted but that removal prior to maturity would be required and then gave the contractor options for planting. Diane asked how long would the trees be at the corner and Curt estimated that the tree would need to be removed between 18 - 25 years depending on growth. Diane asked why we were planting trees that would eventually have to be removed. Curt let the board know that he suggested trees that fit what the contractor/designer was looking for in that location knowing that they would then have to be removed as part of the plan.

Action Item: The Board would like input on clear specifications on decisions related to trees planted by contractors when the Parks Department will be responsible for maintenance of said trees. Jennifer Wills, Director of Parks and Recreation was asked to draft a letter to Dave Campbell, City Manager, from the Tree Board asking if it is possible for the Board to have input on trees planted by contractors moving forward or at some point in the future. After further discussion, it was determined to first create by-laws and responsibilities of tree board members which would be included in the Urban Forest Management Plan. The board would also like additional information on an upcoming agenda about processes related to the liability and accessibility when sidewalks are damaged as a result of street trees when root pruning fails, etc.

6. Reports

Park Manager Report

Curt Nedved, Parks Manager, provided a report outlining tree removal, stump grinding, after-hour calls, hand-watering and other relevant information. Recent Pickle-ball Court upgrades and wasp/bee complaints were discussed as well. Curt touched upon the fact that this year's effort to spray trees for fruit suppression has not worked as well in previous years and that the parks department has received many calls regarding the fruit falling this year. The Board agreed that fruit falling from trees is not grounds for removal and that the clean-up of fallen fruit from street trees is ultimately the responsibility of the homeowner rather than the Parks Department. Additionally, Mr. Nedved reported on two recent tree falling incidents on Nichols Blvd. and Olympia Way which occurred on two subsequent Friday's in August.
