Resolution No. 2177

WHEREAS, it is possible that the notion of naming the American squirrel as the City of Longview's mascot may have been born from a vision of compassion when a local contractor built the area's first tree bridge to prevent squirrels from meeting an early demise when attempting to scamper across a busy street; and WHEREAS, today there are now six bridges in Longview dedicated to the proliferation of these furry inhabitants: the Orld-famous Nutty Narrows Bridge, the Bruce Kamp Memorial Bridge, The John R. Dick Bridge, the Woodie Bridge, the Bruce Kamp Memorial Bridge, The John R. Dick Bridge, the Woodie Bridge, the Bruce Kamp Memorial Bridge, are enshrined in a statue in front of the Longview Public Library, and are the focus of the annually celebrated SquirrelFest—hosted by Fraternal Sandbaggers and made popular with the help of their adorable ambassador, Sandy B. McNutt; and WHEREAS, it is only right that we recognize our interdependent relationship with our nutty neighbors as they help contribute to the economy by providing tourist destinations to our elaborate bridges, beautifully maintained parks and entertaining festivals. Squirrels also share the embodiment of all that we endeavor: working, playing and living in and enjoying a place we call home. NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Longview now designates the American Squirrel as its mascot. PASSED by the City Council of Longview, Washington, and approved by its Mayor this 12th day of May, 2016.	Resolution	11 100. 2177 Longview's mascot may have been born from a vision of compassion when a local contractor built the area's first tree bridge to prevent squirrels from meeting an early demise when attempting to scamper across a busy street; and WHEREAS, today there are now six bridges in Longview dedicated to the proliferation of these furry inhabitants: the Grld-famous Nutty Narrows Bridge, the Bruce Kamp Memorial Bridge, The John R. Dick Bridge, the Woodie Bridge, the Bits & Bots Bridge and a bridge currently in the process of new construction; and WHEREAS, squirrel fever has spread through the community as these indigenous charmers are displayed on local billboards, transit buses, the city is website and Facebook page; are enshrined in a statue in front of the Longview Public Library; and are the focus of the annually celebrated SquirrelFest—hosted by Eraternal Sandbaggers and made popular with the help of their adorable ambassador, Sandy B. McNutt; and WHEREAS, it is only right that we recognize our interdependent relationship with our nutty neighbors as they help contribute to the economy by providing tourist destinations to our elaborate bridges, beautifully maintained parks and entertaining festivals. Squirrels also share the embodiment of all that we endeavor: working, playing and living in and enjoying a place we call home. NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Longview now designates the American Squirrel as its mascot. PASSED by the City Council of Longview, Washington, and approved by its Mayor this 12th day of May, 2016.
WHEREAS, squirrel fever has spread through the community as these indigenous charmers are displayed on local billboards, transit buses, the city swebsite and Facebook page; are enshrined in a statue in front of the Longview Public Library; and are the focus of the annually celebrated SquirrelFest—hosted by Eraternal Sandbaggers and made popular with the help of their adorable ambassador, Sandy B. McNutt; and WHEREAS, it is only right that we recognize our interdependent relationship with our nutty neighbors as they help contribute to the economy by providing tourist destinations to our elaborate bridges, beautifully maintained parks and entertaining festivals. Squirrels also share the embodiment of all that we endeavor: working, playing and living in and enjoying a place we call home. NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Longview now designates the American Squirrel as its mascot. PASSED by the City Council of Longview, Washington, and approved by its Mayor this 12th day of May, 2016. Mayor Mayor	Longview's mascot may have been born from a built the area's first tree bridge to prevent squirr attempting to scamper across a busy street; and WHEREAS, today there are now six bri of these furry inhabitants: the Grld-famous Nut Bridge, The John R. Dick Bridge, the Woodie B	vision of compassion when a local contractor els from meeting an early demise when dges in Longview dedicated to the proliferation ty Narrows Bridge, the Bruce Kamp Memorial ridge, the Bits & Bots Bridge and a bridge nutty neighbors as they help contribute to the economy by providing tourist destinations to our elaborate bridges, beautifully maintained parks and entertaining festivals. Squirrels also share the embodiment of all that we endeavor: working, playing and living in and enjoying a place we call home. NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Longview now designates the American Squirrel as its mascot. PASSED by the City Council of Longview, Washington, and approved by its Mayor this 12th day of May, 2016. Mayor ATTEST:	WHEREAS, squirrel fever has spread the charmers are displayed on local billboards, transfare enshrined in a statue in front of the Longview annually celebrated SquirrelFest—hosted by France of the Longview annually celebrated by France of the Longview annual celebrated by	arough the community as these indigenous it buses, the city's website and Facebook page; w Public Library; and are the focus of the ternal Sandbaggers and made popular with the designates the American Squirrel as its mascot. PASSED by the City Council of Longview, Washington, and approved by its Mayor this 12th day of May, 2016. Mayor Mayor	nutty neighbors as they help contribute to the eccelaborate bridges, beautifully maintained parks at the embodiment of all that we endeavor: working	onomy by providing tourist destinations to our and entertaining festivals. Squirrels also share
12th day of May, 2016. Mayor ATTEST:	•	the City Council of the City of Longview now
ATTEST:		ew, Washington, and approved by its Mayor this City Clerk	ATTEST:	Mayor
	City Clerk	